

Description of the study programme
Health promotion and rehabilitation

Faculty delivering the programme	Nursing
Programme data: national code field of studies branch of studies duration in years scope of the programme mode of study	621B30005 Biomedical sciences Rehabilitation 1.5 year 90 ECST Full-time
Qualification degree/professional qualification to be awarded	Master's degree in rehabilitation
Cycle	Second
Requirements for admission	Bachelor degree in Rehabilitation and professional qualification of occupational therapist (applying for specialization Occupational therapy in community) or physiotherapist (applying for specializations: Clinical physiotherapy, Sports physiotherapy, Health promotion through physical exercises, Children rehabilitation). Student have to choose specialization during application process.
Other details of the programme	The aim of the study program, „Health promotion and rehabilitation“: to deepen students knowledge about the modern health promotion and rehabilitation science issues, diagnosis, prevention and rehabilitation strategies. To develop students ability to independently carry out scientific research, analyze and interpret their results, apply the results in practice. Improve students practical skills to solve the problems in unexpected new practical situations, adopt innovative, research -based solutions.
Access to professional career	A person who has successfully completed his/her second cycle study programme and has been awarded the master's degree in rehabilitation can work in all health care settings (hospitals, outpatient clinics, and sanatorium, wellness centers as well) also to teach in university or to enter a PhD programme.
Students' mobility	ERASMUS

Access to further study	PhD studies
Assessment of study results	Assessment of study results is carried out according to summative mark system.
Study Programme Committee	Chairman: Ph.D. Lina Leimonienė Members: Ph.D. Vilma Mauricienė, Assoc. Prof. Laimonas Šiupšinskas, Ph.D. Sigitas Mingaila, Ph.D. Audronė Prasauskienė Ph.D. Gintarė Vaitkienė (social partner) Ksenija Stasiulienė (student)