

Latest update regarding practical part of subjects/modules during period of influenza epidemic and COVID-19 threat period [10th of March, 2020]

Taking into account complicated epidemiological situation due to infectious diseases (influenza, COVID-19) for maximum assurance of students' personal health and patients' health, upon decision of subject/module leading department, training with patients (bed-sided teaching and training in operating rooms) can be shortened or modified to other training forms:

sorting of visitors, collecting epidemiological anamnesis/information from inbound patients, thus developing competences in communication, collaboration also skills in prevention of infectious or communicable diseases.

IMPORTANT

Sick (coughing, feverish) and feeling unwell students are insistently requested not to show up in the study process (skip lectures, seminars, classes, etc.) and continue studies after full recovery only.
